EPPE'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.
By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many a heavy doctor's bill. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons, which find their way into the human system daily, are being expelled by the use of this pure and healthful food. It is a truly nourishing and strengthening food, and a properly nourished frame. See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.
Sold only in packets, labelled—

What the People Say.

We invite expressions of opinion from the public upon all subjects of general interest for insertion under this head of the Advertiser. Such communications should be addressed to the Editor of the Advertiser, and be accompanied by the name of the writer as a guarantee of good faith, but not necessarily for publication.

Our object is to offer the fullest opportunity for a variety of popular discussion and to give to all inquirers the most complete character on any subject in which they may be interested.

Mr. Emerson—It is not trespassing on your valuable columns to beg leave to record something of what the people say. Above public discussion is necessary for strengthening our bonds of union in peace and harmony, and thus developing the interests of all the community. We speak plainly as we pay. We have a right to assert our ideas, and as mechanics to refer to general principles of improvement in every branch of business for the common good of our adopted country—now is the time to speak and give vent to our views previous to the sitting of what is likely to be one of our most important Legislatures; and not afterwards, when criticism puts on her mantle of disappointment. Some people say we want a new code of laws. Other people say, and we believe a majority, that we have too much law and too little justice. Let us have by all means any quantity of justice, and like the people of the primitive ages, few courts of law, but plain and simple arbitration between man and man, with an impartial umpire at the head, and thereby save a great deal of useless and expensive litigation. Live in peace—if you are wise," said a lawyer and gentleman, the late Hon. Mr. Stanley—so endeavored many of us that knew him. "Peace to the land," said a soldier or sailor, under the immediate command of His Majesty the King, we will form a grand body of volunteers. How organize them? Easy enough. For instance, we have the finest body of firemen on the Pacific—equip them as mounted Cavalry—Our rifles to be formed out of the Guard, with auxiliary volunteers from natives and whites of every condition in life, to serve under the banner of the King, and like the people of the primitive ages, few courts of law, but plain and simple arbitration between man and man, with an impartial umpire at the head, and thereby save a great deal of useless and expensive litigation.
